History & Mission: Fort George G. Meade is a United States Army installation located in between Washington DC and Baltimore, Maryland. Fort Meade became an active Army installation in 1917. Authorized by an Act of Congress in May 1917, it was one of 16 cantonments built for troops drafted for the war with the Central Powers in Europe. The present Maryland site was selected June 23, 1917 because of its close proximity to the railroad, Baltimore port and Washington D.C. Every day, more than 100,000 people seek the services Fort Meade offers. Its primary mission is to provide a wide range of services to 117 partner organizations from the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard. Major military agencies and commands include the National Security Agency, U.S. Cyber Command, Defense Information Systems Agency, and Defense Media Activity.
